PATENT OFFICE NOTICES

Protests to the Grant of a Patent

[37 CFR Part 1]

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the authority contained in section 6 of the Act of July 19, 1952 (66 Stat. 793; 35 U.S.C. 6), as amended Oct. 5, 1971, Public Law 92-132, 85 Stat. 364, the Patent Office proposes to amend title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations by revising §§ 1.11(b) and 1.291.

All persons are invited to present their views, objections, recommendations, or suggestions in connection with the proposed changes to the Commissioner of Patents, Washington, D.C., 20231, on or before Oct. 31, 1973, on which date a hearing will be held at 9:30 a.m. in Room 11C24, Building 3, 2021 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Va. All persons wishing to be heard orally at the hearing are requested to notify the Commissioner of Patents of their intended appearance. Any written comments or suggestions may be inspected by any person, upon written request, a reasonable time after the closing date for submitting comments.

The underlying purpose of the proposed rule change is to assure that the best art and information relevant to the patentability of an application for patent are brought to the Patent Office's attention. Under present procedures, ex parte examination of patent applications is conducted as thoroughly and in as effective a manner as possible. However, it is noted that a significant number of patents involved in litigation are held invalid because prior art or other information having a bearing on patentability, which was not known to the examiner during the prosecution of the case, is brought to the court's attention.

The proposed rule change is designed to elicit this additional prior art or other information. An applicant would be given the opportunity to open his application to public inspection prior to issuance of a patent. The public would then have the opportunity to bring to the attention of the Office information which bears on the question of patentability of the pending patent application. Presumably, interested and affected members of the public may be aware of relevant prior art which the Office did not find, or might know of other information unavilable to the Office, bearing on the question of patentability. If in the opinion of the Commissioner, consideration of such new evidence would lead to a more complete appraisal of patentability, the Commissioner may reopen prosecution of the application.

It is believed that there are several benefits which this proposed procedure would bring about. First, applicants would benefit from a more meaningful presumption of validity where a patent is issued after appropriate consideration of evidence submitted by the public under this procedure. Second, potential competitors of the applicant would benefit from having the opportunity to call to the attention of the Office information that could either prevent a patent from issuing or lead to claims of more restricted scope. And by use of the proposed procedure such determinations would be helpful in avoiding the more expensive conventional procedure following the issue of the patent, of litigating the questions of validity and scope of such patent on the same grounds at a later date. Finally, the public would benefit from the resultant strengthening of the presumption of validity of patents granted on applications which underwent this procedure and the strengthening of the patent system for its intended purposes.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.11 is proposed to be amended to allow the Patent Office to open the file of a pending patent application to the public in accordance with a written authorization from the applicant as specified in the proposed § 1.291(b).

It is proposed to amend present § 1.291 by incorporating a new paragraph (a) which provides that protests filed by the public to the grant of a patent, including the identity of the protesting party, be made of record in the patent application concerned, if such application is identified by the protesting party. The proposed rule change would also afford the examiner an opportunity to ask the protesting party for submission of additional evidence bearing on the question of patentability. Any such evidence received would be forwarded to the applicant. Under § 1.291(a) the protesting party would not be permitted to inspect the application file.

In paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of § 1.291, a new procedure is proposed whereby an applicant, whose application for patent has been indicated as being allowable by the examiner (Form PO-327), may within thirty days of such indication authorize the Office to open his application to public inspection. The application would be available for inspection for a period of three months from the time a notice to that effect appeared in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE. The notice would be in the form of a publication of data necessary to identify the application in question and would include a representative illustration of the invention, the most comprehensive claim, and a listing of references cited by the Patent Office. The applicant would be charged a fee of $25.00 to defray the printcost of this notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE.

On the basis of such notice, any person would be permitted access to the application in question and could obtain copies of any papers contained therein (see proposed amendment to § 1.11(b)).

If any person, after inspection of an application, is of the opinion that the relevant prior art of record is not complete, he can notify the Commissioner and the applicant in writing, of any grounds, including additional publications or patents, which he believes have a bearing on the patentability of any claim contained in such application, together with an explanation of the relevance of such publications or patents to the allowed claims. He would, in addition or alternatively, have the opportunity to comment on the manner in which the prior art of record was applied and raise any other matter which could affect the patentability of the claimed invention.

All evidence and comments received in this fashion, including the identity of the protesting party, would be made of record in the application after the time period for protest had elapsed. The protesting party would thereafter be privy to all further proceedings in the Patent Office insofar as they relate to the evidence he submitted. If, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such evidence constituted a prima facie showing of non-patentability of the subject matter as claimed, or unenforceability of a patent if granted, prosecution of the application would be reopened.

As a result of any reexamination of the application, the applicant would be permitted to present amended or new claims which would be subject to a determination of patentability by a primary examiner. The protesting party who made evidence of non-patentability available to the Patent Office would be informed of any action taken by the Office and given the opportunity to comment thereon.

In cases involving evidence of prior public use or sale of the invention, the procedure outlined in present § 1.292 would be utilized to provide the person presenting such evidence with an opportunity to be heard.

An adverse determination to the patentability of any claim may, of course, be appealed by the applicant to the Board of Appeals under § 1.191.

Applications considered under the above procedure and ultimately allowed after a decision by the Board of Appeals would not be reconsidered under this proposed procedure. If, after the three-month period from the date of publication, no evidence was received or if in the opinion of the Commissioner the evidence submitted does not bar the granting of a patent on grounds of patentability or enforceability, a notice of allowance (Form POL-85) would be transmitted in due course. This determination would be final and not subject to petition by the protesting party.

The text of the proposed amended sections is as follows:

§ 1.11 Files open to the public.

* * * * *

(b) Applications in which the Office has accepted a request filed under § 1.139 or received an authorization under § 1.291 (b), are open to inspection by the general public, and copies may be furnished upon paying the fee therefor.

§ 1.291 Protests to the grant of a patent.

(a) The patent statutes do not provide for protests to the grant of a patent as a matter of right on the part of the public. Where protests to the grant of a patent are filed with the Office, and the protesting party identifies the application, the protest papers will be referred to the examiner having charge of the application. In such case, the protest papers, including the identity of the protesting party, will be placed in the application file and a copy will be forwarded to the applicant. The examiner may request submission of further evidence from the protesting party, and any further evidence adduced will be made of record and also forwarded to the applicant. However, the protesting party will not be permitted to inspect the application file unless the Office has received an authorization under paragraph (b) of this section or § 1.14 (a). Where the protesting party cannot identify the application, the protest will be acknowledged and referred to the examiner having charge of the subject matter involved for his information.

(b) Applications may be voluntarily opened to public inspection. Within thirty days from the mailing date of a notice of allowability from the examiner, an applicant may waive his right to have his pending application for patent kept in confidence (§ 1.14). Such waiver may be accomplished by filing in the Office a written authorization, signed by the applicant and assignee of record or by the attorney or agent of record, to open the complete application to inspection and protest by the general public to the granting thereof, together with a fee of $25.00.

(c) Upon receipt of an authorization under paragraph (b) of this section, the Office shall publish suitable notice of such fact in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE together with a representative illustration of the invention, the most comprehensive claim, and a listing of references cited by the Patent Office. At anytime up to three months thereafter, any person may protest the grant of a patent by filing with the Commissioner and serving the applicant with publications, patents or any other information which might have a bearing on the patentability of any claims contained in the patent application or on the enforceability of any patent issuing on said application; said protest must include a memorandum explaining the relevance of the submitted evidence. All protest papers filed, together with the identity of the real party in interest originating the protest shall be made of record in the application after the time period for protest has elapsed. Examination of the application shall be reopened if, in the opinion of the Commissioner, it appear that any claim thereof may not be patentable or any patent granted on said application would be unenforceable in view of such evidence. In the event that examination is reopened, the protesting party shall be apprised of all further proceedings in the Patent Office insofar as they relate to or are concerned with the evidence submitted by the protesting party, and accorded the opportunity to comment thereon. All further papers received from the protestor will be made of record. If the examination of the application is not reopened, the protesting party shall be so apprised. A decision by the Commissioner not to reopen an application for examination after the close of the protest period, shall be final and not subject to petition by the protesting party. In cases involving evidence of public use or sale of the invention more than one year before the filing of the application, the procedure outlined in § 1.292 shall be followed.

(d) The transmittal of a formal notice of allowance shall be held in abeyance until the patentability of the claimed invention has been determined in light of such evidence. If no protest to patentability is submitted to the Commissioner within the time specified, or if he determines that no further examination is necessary, a notice of allowance shall be transmitted to the applicant, his attorney or his agent in due course. A copy of said notice of allowance will also be forwarded to the protesting party.

Commissioner of Patents.
